About Dayton Philharmonic Youth Strings

Established in September 1982 with the support of Mrs. Virginia Kettering, the purpose of Dayton Philharmonic Youth Strings is to provide advanced musical experience for string students. Youth Strings presently comprises 65 students from 32 different schools and is under the aegis of the Dayton Philharmonic Orchestra. Members of DPYS are selected through annual auditions open to all string students in grades 6 through 12.

About the Conductor

Dr. Betsey Hofeldt received her Bachelor of Music Education degree from St. Olaf College, Minnesota, and her Master of Music degree in violin performance from the University of Illinois, Urbana. She earned her doctoral degree in violin performance from the University of Cincinnati College-Conservatory of Music.

Since 1988, Dr. Hofeldt has been a member of the violin section of the Dayton Philharmonic Orchestra. Prior to joining the DPO, she performed with orchestras in Virginia, Ohio and Nebraska.

In addition to her orchestral career, Dr. Hofeldt is an avid performer of chamber music. Along with her husband, cellist Mark Hofeldt, Dr. Hofeldt has performed throughout the Miami Valley in the Hofeldt Phillips Piano Trio for over two decades.

Dr. Hofeldt is on the faculty of Wittenberg University as a violin and viola instructor and maintains a private studio in Oakwood.

Be a Student's Inspiration

UCLA analysis of a U.S. Department of Education database tracking more than 25,000 students over ten years showed that students involved in music generally tested higher in reading proficiency exams and standardized tests than those who had no musical involvement. The study noted higher scores for musicians in all socioeconomic groups.

Your gift to the Dayton Philharmonic Youth Strings can help ensure that area children have this music advantage. Just $200 sponsors a youth in the orchestra for the entire year! To sponsor a student, make your gift online at www.daytonperformingarts.org/donate designated to the Dayton Philharmonic Youth Strings.

The Dayton Philharmonic Youth Strings and other orchestral education programs are made possible in part by the generous support of community members like you.
